Power Climber Wind Unveils New Training Center in Belgium

SEATTLE/BRUSSELS — Power Climber Wind, a division of SafeWorks, LLC, unveils a brand new training center at its European headquarters in Antwerp, Belgium.

This 135-square-meter facility includes a complete line of equipment used for wind turbine access training including operational units of four different service lift models, the market-leading IBEX[®] climb assist, and a 360° blade access platform.

Power Climber Wind's certified trainers offer a variety of training curricula at this facility including courses on service lift installation, service lift operation and maintenance, hoist overhaul, and IBEX[®] climb assist installation and operation, among others.

Customers may also visit the training facility to view operational demonstrations on existing products as well as new prototypes and custom-engineered solutions.

Contact the Power Climber Wind team at wind@powerclimber.be for upcoming training opportunities at the new Belgium training center.
